Growing up in New Mexico gave me a special appreciation for the beauty of the area. When the opportunity to return presented itself in 2005, I was elated. Real Estate has always been my passion from first licensing in 1985 to a successful career selling second home and resort properties in Wilmington, NC and the beaches from 1990-2005. I attended Cape Fear Community College, continuing my education with Real Estate Practices, the appraisal pre-licensing classes, yearly updates for Certified Residential Brokerage and, most recently, in New Mexico, becoming a Certified Negotiations Expert. When you are looking for your next home, call me and I'll be delighted to help you. Helping you make good decisions is my job -- and I love it!!

Testimonials:

Jennise provided excellent services. Her interpersonal skills are superb - our time with her was informative, relaxing and unhurried. She is not only knowledgeable about the area, she knows real estate law and acted as a total advocate for the buyers. We would recommend Jennise without reservation!
